PSYCHOLOGICAL ASSOCIATION

Memorandum of Understanding

The Russian Psychological Society (RPO) and the Turkish Psychological Association (TPD) agree as follows:

- Whereas, the bylaws of the RPO and the statutes of the TPD share mutual objectives calling for the advancement of the discipline in the public interest; and
- Whereas, it is desirable to have integration and exchange between the psychology organizations in the Russian Federation and the Republic of Turkey; and
- Whereas, mutual concerns make it likely that occasions for joint consultation and cooperation will present themselves in the years to come; and
- Whereas, both organizations wish to anticipate such occasions by establishing a framework, when possible, for their timely discussion; and
- Whereas, both organizations to form training and internship courses, and exchange programmes up between two countries; and
- Now therefore, the RPO and the TPD affirm and reaffirm their working relations in the Memorandum of Understanding.

Furthermore, pursuant to this Memorandum of Understanding, the executives of the RPO and TPD shall maintain regular communication to discuss matters of common concern.

Finally, the RPO and the TPD will seek to identify projects and activities, in which they may work together, assist or support one another, or otherwise cooperate for the betterment of psychology and the public interest.
